HI TECH LOCAL BUSINESS INCLUDED IN TOP TECHNOLOGY LEAGUE TABLE

Exeter, UK, January 2010 - TCL included in the Deloitte 2009 Technology Fast 500 for Europe, Middle East and Africa (EMEA).

Transition Consulting Limited (TCL), a software testing business founded by graduates of the University of Exeter and with offices at the Innovation Centre, has been included in the Deloitte 2009 Technology Fast 500 for Europe, Middle East and Africa (EMEA).

“Because Deloitte Technology Fast 500 EMEA measures sustained revenue growth over five years, being one of the 500 fastest growing technology companies in EMEA is an impressive achievement, TCL deserves a lot of credit for its remarkable growth.”

David Halstead, Partner
Deloitte’s Technology Fast 500 program, EMEA

TCL were ranked 59 in the UK and 307 in the EMEA region, alongside household names such as Lovefilm International and toptable.com

This annual ranking of the fastest growing public and private technology, media, telecommunications, life sciences and green technology companies from 26 countries in EMEA is based on companies’ five-year revenue growth.

Stewart Noakes, Chairman of TCL Group Ltd commented:

“When I founded the company in 2000, I wanted to bring some fresh ideas to software testing, an environment that was typically seen as problematic and stagnant in its approach. I think we’ve achieved that, as inclusion in this prestigious league table clearly demonstrates. I believe we are well on the way to achieving our long term ambition of becoming a world wide, world class centre of software testing excellence by 2020.”

TCL is an independent Software Testing Consultancy, started at the beginning of 2000, with offices in the UK in London, Bristol and Exeter; in Burlington, Massachusetts in the US; and in Bangalore in India.
